CCC Intelligent Solutions Appoints Chief Product Officer to Scale AI-Driven Innovation Across the Industry

Josh Valdez, an accomplished product leader experienced in delivering high-impact solutions, joins CCC as Chief Product Officer

- Josh Valdez named Chief Product Officer of CCC
- Will lead CCC's product strategy and scale AI-innovation
- Appointment effective February 16, 2026

CHICAGO – January 30, 2026 – CCC Intelligent Solutions Inc. (CCC), a leading cloud platform provider powering the P&C insurance economy, today announced the appointment of Josh Valdez as Chief Product Officer. Valdez will lead CCC's product strategy, design, and delivery, with responsibility for scaling AI-driven technology and innovation across the company's platform to accelerate value for customers.

Valdez is an experienced product innovator with a strong background in both building and scaling platform-based technology businesses. He brings deep expertise in artificial intelligence, including agentic AI, with a focus on designing solutions that enable effective collaboration between people and AI to improve outcomes, efficiency, and decision-making.

"The insurance and automotive industries are facing unprecedented complexity, which requires increasingly smarter and more connected solutions," said Githesh Ramamurthy, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of CCC Intelligent Solutions. "Josh brings deep experience building platform-scale products and turning advanced technologies into solutions customers trust. His ability to combine human expertise with intelligent automation will be invaluable as he leads our product organization. We're excited to welcome him to CCC and know he'll have a meaningful impact on how we help customers serve consumers quickly and confidently when it matters most."

Prior to joining CCC, Valdez most recently served as Senior Vice President of Products at Dayforce, where he led global product management with a focus on advancing AI-driven capabilities across the company's human capital management platform. Previously, he served as Vice President of Platform at Workday, overseeing core platform initiatives, and joined the company through its acquisition of Pattern, the intelligent workspace startup he co-founded. Valdez spent 5 years in senior product, technology, and strategy roles at Google prior to that.

"What drew me to CCC is the company's strong position, customer-centric execution, and the opportunity to evolve its proven AI capabilities to enable deeper orchestration of decisions and actions across a mission-critical ecosystem," said Valdez. "I'm excited to join the team and deliver solutions that make a real difference in the day-to-day work of our clients and improve the recovery and repair experiences for the consumers they support."

Josh will join the CCC team on February 16, 2026.
